

Edgar OLMOS OLMOS

Dr. Edgar Olmos Olmos is a renowned Colombian dermatologist, graduated from Pontifical Xaverian University of Bogota, and a specialist from Federico Lleras Acosta Dermatological Center.

Founder of the dermatology services at Hospital San José de Bogotá and Fundación Santa Fe de Bogotá, as well as the Laser Center at Asociación Médica de los Andes and the Phototherapy Center of Bogotá.

Currently emeritus head of the dermatology service at Hospital San José de Bogotá.

His teaching experience includes the Universidad del Rosario and the Fundación Universitaria de Ciencias de la Salud, where he currently holds the position of full professor.

A member of various national and international dermatology and internal medicine associations (Colombia, Peru, Panama, Dominican Republic), he has served as a lecturer and author of seminal texts in the field, earning recognition as a master of Ibero-Latin American dermatology in 2012.