

Francisca Regina OLIVEIRA CARNEIRO

Graduated in Medicine from the Federal University of Pará in 1985, with a specialization in Tropical Dermatology (UFPA), master's degree in Dermatology and Doctorate in Medicine (Dermatology) from the Federal University of São Paulo.

Effective professor of Dermatology at the State University of Pará, since 1992, and Full Professor since 2013. Currently works as a member of the faculty of the master's degree in Experimental Surgery and the Stricto Sensu Postgraduate Course in Biology of Parasitic Agents at UEPA.

Currently, she also holds the positions of Coordinator and preceptor of the Medical Residency Program in Dermatology at UEPA and general secretary of the Brazilian Society of Dermatology.

He has experience in Medicine, with an emphasis on Dermatology, especially in the area of Tropical Dermatology, inflammatory dermatoses and pediatric dermatology.