

Adebola O. OGUNBIYI

MD, FMCP, FWACP, FRCP, IFAAD is a Professor of Medicine at the University of Ibadan and a Consultant Dermatologist at the University College Hospital, Ibadan, Oyo State, Nigeria.

She is a past President of the Nigerian Association of Dermatologists, a former Vice President of the African Society of Dermatology and Venereology, and a past Vice President of the International Society of Dermatology. Additionally, she has served as an International Board Observer on the Board of the American Academy of Dermatology.

Prof. Ogunbiyi was the pioneer Director of the College of Medicine Education Unit at the College of Medicine, University of Ibadan. A dedicated mentor, she has guided numerous younger dermatologists in Nigeria.

She currently heads the Dermatology Department at her institution, with special interests in hair and scalp disorders, general dermatology, and medical education