

Mihael SKERLEV

Mihael Skerlev, MD, PhD, is Attending Dermatovenereologist and Full Professor of Dermatology and Venereology at the Department of Dermatology and Venereology, Zagreb University School of Medicine, and Head of the the STI Out-Patient Clinic as well as the Reference Laboratory of Croatia for Dermatological Mycology and Parasitology.

His special interests are STIs, dermatological mycology and paediatric dermatology.

He is member of the American Academy of Dermatology, Council member and Chair of the Committee for International Development of IUSTI-Europe, member of the Board of Representatives of the European Academy of Dermatology and Venereology (EADV), Chair of the EADV HPV Task Force, European Dermatology Forum member, UEMS-EBDV representative for Croatia, founding member and President of the STI Society of the Croatian Medical Association etc. Prof. Skerlev is a Honorary member of the German, Hungarian etc. STD Societies and of the French, Macedonian, Hellenic, Jordanian, Serbian, Slovenian etc. Dermatological Societies.

Prof. Skerlev has published more than 100 papers in the peer-reviewed journals and has presented more than 400 papers at various international congresses, mostly as invited speaker on topics in STIs and Dermatomyology.