

Carolina TALHARI

Carolina Talhari is a dermatologist from Manaus, Amazonas, Brazil.

She works at Alfredo da Matta Foundation for Dermatology and is Associate Professor of Dermatology at State University of Amazonas.

She has been working with tropical neglected diseases such as leprosy, cutaneous leishmaniasis, sexually transmitted diseases, subcutaneous and deep mycoses, among others.

She is also involved in clinical research of new diagnosis methods and therapies for leprosy, cutaneous leishmaniasis and sexually transmitted diseases.