

Verma SHYAM

Dr. Shyam Verma, Vadodara, India is a consultant dermatologist in private practice since 1992. He is widely travelled and has lectured in over 30 countries on various subjects.

He has been a Director and Vice president on the board of directors of International Society of Dermatology.

He has also been elected for two terms as one of the two International Board members of European Academy of Dermatology and Venereology.

Dr. Verma has the distinction of publishing scientific articles extensively and has over 210 peer reviewed scientific publications. He is member/advisor of editorial boards of more than ten international journals including Indian Journal of Dermatology and Venereology, International Journal of Dermatology, Acta Dermatologica Venereologica.

He is founder Editor of Indian Dermatology Online Journal. Dr. Verma also has the unique distinction of being Adjunct Professor of Dermatology in the University of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia, USA.